ABOUT

Originally from Porto, Portugal, I am an experienced brand designer with over a decade of expertise in branding, editorial design, packaging and web design. I have developed a skill set through diverse roles in the design industry. Starting in a small design studio in 2013, I gained foundational skills in identity development and digital design. Later, working in the marketing department of a large company, I honed my organizational and management abilities, mastering the commercial aspects of design.

As the co-founder of Mano a Mano Club, I have led the creation of unique brand identities, effectively managing client relationships and collaborating with suppliers to ensure top-quality outcomes. I am known for my flexibility in client feedback, strong communication skills, and a practical, efficient approach, consistently delivering high-impact design solutions. Now relocating to Bergen, Norway, I am eager to bring this wealth of experience and skill to the innovative local design community.
